

Editors' Acknowledgments

The Editors would like to express their appreciation to the Editorial Board and the Panel of Advisory Editors for their advice and help in producing Volume Four, Issue 1. Particular thanks are due to the Managing Editor who oversaw this whole Issue in relation to production of both print and electronic copy and was a constant source of help and encouragement. Finally, we would like to offer our sincere, warmest and heartfelt thanks to those listed below who gave of their time and wise expertise to assist with the reviewing process. We are grateful to all of them and particularly to those, who suffered from adverse technological situations or generously reacted to pressing time conditions.

Mostafa Abdeen, Cairo University, Egypt
Yemi Akegbejo-Samsons, Federal University of Agriculture, Abeokuta, Nigeria
Cristina Albuquerque, University of Coimbra, Portugal
Pablo Beneitone, International Tuning Academy, University of Deusto, Spain
Maria Cinque, LUMSA University, Rome, Italy
Lina Maria Escobar Ocampo, Universidad Pontificia Bolivariana, Medellín, Colombia
Arlene Gilpin, European Expert, International Tuning Academy, University of Deusto, Spain
Mohammad Megahed, Cairo University, Egypt
Ahmad Radwan, Cairo University, Egypt
Joaquim Ramos de Carvalho, University of Coimbra, Portugal
Margarete Schermutzki, Higher Education and Tuning Expert, Germany
Ana Seixas, University of Coimbra, Portugal
Constantin Spiridonidis, University of Thessaloniki, Greece
Maria Sticchi Damiani, Independent Higher Education Expert, Italy
Damtew Teferra, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa
Samuel Ricardo Velez, Universidad Pontificia Bolivariana, Medellín, Colombia
Anne Virtanen, University of Jyväskylä, Finland
Maria Yarosh, International Tuning Academy, University of Deusto, Spain

Luigi F. Donà dalle Rose
Anna Serbati
November 23rd, 2016